INTOXICATED...

IS THE WORD.

Intoxicated with admiration was the condition of a continuous crowd in front of that great sweater display at Bicknell Bros. last Saturday, and the result was that we sold more sweaters that day than in any whole week in any September in our history. There is nothing that will arouse the sporting nature of the boys and young men like a "hot" display of sweaters, and the unanimous verdict is that this display was never equalled in Lawrence.

Abbott for the new cellar and the work will be pushed ahead rapidly.

There is no doubt about it, the Park Commissioners are surely doing a good thing in their careful trimming of the town's shade trees. Too many limbs and an unshapely tree are nearly as bad as no trees at all. The dead limbs that have been removed alone makes their work worth while, for those same limbs have in many cases been a menace to life during or after one of our severe winter storms which strews the ground with fallen branches. Let the good work go on.

Rev. Robert A. MacPhaden of Chelsea, formerly of the West Parish Church, had charge of a party of excursionists from England who came over to attend the International Congregational Council in Boston. The trip made was to Concord on Tuesday of this week.

The Townsman correspondent made the journey from New York to Albany on the day boat with this party of English excursionists and delegates, Monday, Sept. 18. Members of the party expressed much surprise at what they had seen of America, at the size of New York City, at the beautiful scenery, the size and speed of the Albany boat and the length of the river. It is probable that they have a still more improved and respectful idea of the United States now, than they had then, as they have visited Niagara Falls and other places in the country. One of them said to an inquirer in Boston, "we have had a great time, it is a fine country," a sentiment voiced by most of the sight-seers from across the water.

A Girl's Experiences in Boston.

A sparkling serial of Boston life, under the title of "Her Boston Experiences," will begin in the next issue of the Ladies Home Journal. It is written by Margaret Alston, a vivacious, well-bred girl who spent a winter in Boston with relatives living in the Back Bay and was taken everywhere in the most exclusive social, dramatic, literary and musical circles. She saw the best and the worst of Boston life, and she tells both as she saw them, all in a bright but audaciously frank manner until the picture becomes a perfect biography of Boston life and people of today.

THE MIDDLESEX EAST AGRICULTURAL ASSN

Grand Fair to be Held Sept. 27-30 at Agricultural Park, Reading and Wakefield.

THIS YEAR IT WILL BE BIGGER THAN EVER.

Large Racing Purses—Balloon Ascension Daily—Great Continuous Stage Show—Racing Dogs—Splendid Showing of Farm Products and Fancy Work—New Grand Stand and Cattle Sheds.

The great fair of the Middlesex East Agricultural association is now an event of more than local importance, and an exhibition that a few years ago hardly filled a small hall now covers acres and acres of ground and annually incurs an expense of many thousands of dollars.

At Agricultural Park.

Conveniently situated, about equal in Reading and Wakefield, and having a frontage of about 500 feet on a beautiful sheet of water called Lake Quannapowitt, a most ideal spot for the purpose is Agricultural Park. It comprises about 45 acres, and a half-mile track of regulation shape, pronounced by horsemen to be the best track in this section of the country and second to none in the United States, has been laid out. Last year the crack trotter "Woodshed" established a track record of 2:11 on this track, and this year its condition is such that a new and faster mark will surely be established.

The exhibition hall is a spacious three-story building to the left of the entrance, and during the fair each of the several floors are packed to overflowing with farming products, fancy work and a thousand and one attractive articles that are gathered from far and near. New cattle sheds, designed after the most approved plan, are now in process of erection, and a large tent will amply accommodate the great poultry exhibit.

ON AGRICULTURAL PARK.

Big Racing Events Promised—Large List of Entries Assured.

The basis of success of the grand fair which the Middlesex East Agricultural association will hold at Agricultural Park Sept. 27-30, is the turf events, and the large list of entries already received promise no end of sport. No trotting track in the country is superior to the half-mile circle which Superintendent Edmunds has planned to the pink of perfection, and new figures will displace the track record of 2:11 of last year.

The purse events to be contested include the following classes: On the first day, Wednesday, Sept. 27, the 3-minute class will trot and pace for a purse of $300, followed by a 2:45 trot and pace for $250. On Thursday $225 will be offered for a 2:35 mark, and $300 will go to the 2:15 class. The 2:20 class will start on Friday, either trot or pace, for $150, and a novelty in the shape of a matinee race of one-half mile heats, and every heat a race for a purse of $100.

The free-for-all on Saturday, the last day, will be a grand attraction, trot or pace, for $400, and on the same day the 2:40 class will trot or pace for $200. Horsemen have been so well treated at Agricultural Park that there is always a good entrance and the best of racing, with no delays and no laying up of heats is assured.

last year that none of the exhibits received were broken or lost, at the last meeting of the board of directors an appropriation was made for glass show cases, and exhibitors are guaranteed careful handling and safe return of their treasures.

The domestic science class from the Reading Woman's Club is also lending its aid toward developing the woman's department, and is preparing a cook book to be distributed for the occasion.

The third floor is confined to a display of fruits, flowers, vegetables and exhibits of a general character. They are always unusual, large and varied, and the premiums offered insure exhibits of a high class.

AMONG THE LIVE STOCK.

The New Cattle Sheds Centre of Attraction.

All the "farm animals that walk" are displayed in suitable quarters. In the long new cattle shed, erected under a special design, will be found selections of choice stock from all the surrounding towns. Indeed, it is wonderful that so many high class cattle can be found within the territory covered by the fair patronage.

IN THE POULTRY EXHIBIT.

Charles Wakfield of Reading is superintendent of cattle, and committees have been appointed to award premiums.

There is always a showing of working horses, breeding horses and colts, and family, gentlemen's driving and walking horses. The ploughing match always brings together in friendly rivalry a display of muscle and brawn, not to say high class stock, sufficient to make an attractive exhibition.

An expert judge, specially employed to supervise the poultry exhibit, will pass on a display that many exhibitions devoted solely to the poultry interests would feel proud to show. Space is assigned by the superintendent, and the moving or changing of fowl once in position must be under his supervision and by his consent. All poultry for competition or exhibition must be in position on the first day of the fair at 12 noon.

Pigeons and pet animals will also receive recognition with suitable premiums. Last year the display of pigeons was especially fine, and every effort will be made to increase the display at the forthcoming fair.

THE EXHIBITION BUILDING.

Three Floors Packed to Overflowing.

In the large exhibition building, 100x50 feet and three stories in height, all is orderly activity during fair week, and under the direction of Geo. H. Sweetser, superintendent of building, a routine is perfected that insures each exhibitor the attention necessary to display his product to the best possible advantage.

This is Secretary Talbot's "busy day," and with a corps of assistants the checking and placing of articles is conducted without confusion. The first floor, prettily decorated for the occasion, is taken up with manufacturers' and traders' exhibits, and the space for such is always in active demand.

The second floor is the great centre of attraction, especially for the ladies, for here the Woman's Department is seen in all its glory.

Under the direction of Mrs. Jeannette W. Crafts of Reading, president of the Woman's Department, matters purely feminine connected with the undertaking are pushed with surprising energy. Chairmen of the woman's committee in the various towns comprising Mrs. W. S. Keene, Stoneham; Mrs. G. W. Sweetser, Wakefield; Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Saugus; Mrs. F. O. Parkins, Lynnfield; and Mrs. J. B. McLane, of North Reading, report not a little interest in the woman's display, and are daily answering inquiries and indicating methods of showing articles to the best possible advantage. What was last year a striking educational feature will this year develop into a display of woman's handwork positively bewildering. Especial attention is called to the list of premiums offered for specimens of needlework from children of 15 years or younger and ladies of 75 years or over.

Calico designs will show their popularity with a large exhibit, and as last year, the display of china painting rivalled the showing made by any other fair in the state, extra space will now be provided for this artistic feature. Although the woman's department was able to report

FUNNY FAKIRS AND SHOWMEN EVERYWHERE.

Hit the Nigger's Head or Have Your Picture Taken.

Fakirs and showmen always flock in large numbers to the Middlesex East Agricultural Association Fair and Agricultural Park on the opening day will in this respect outlive the world. The air is rife with the cries of the fakirs. Visitors to the fair find the grotesque and original methods of these itinerant showmen a source of great fascination.

LADIES' DRIVING PARADE.

A New and Popular Feature Sure to Be a Hit.

The track committee at the forthcoming fair of the Middlesex East Agricultural Association, Sept. 27-30, propose to offer suitable premiums for the best driving team, single or double, driven by a woman.

Following a grand parade around the track on the morning of the third day of the fair (Sept. 29), the prizes will be awarded, and judging from the interest manifested, a long list of entries is assured. Application for a place in the parade should be made to Chas. Talbot, secretary, Montrose, Mass.

DUMBFOUNDED RED MEN.

The Navajo Indians of Northeastern Arizona, have been introduced to the viceroy, and their wonder has been as though the day of resurrection had come. The dead have been seen to walk, and out on the great red sandstone plain, the white man's magic has brought the "fire wagon" and has arrayed armies of soldiers that came unseen, and that vanished into the night.

August is a holiday time with the Navajos. During the month are held many of the ceremonials of rejoicing, and there is done much of the intertribal visiting with the Moquis, Yavapais and Apaches, visiting that is both for pleasure and for the barter of blankets and melons. The Snake Dance of the Moquis is attended yearly by hundreds of solemn Navajos, who have no sneers for the mummeries of the hill-top people, but are willing to concede that the ceremonial is "good medicine" in the rainmaking line. In August the Indian traders usually give their treats, great entertainments combining the feature of a wild west show and a barbecue.

This year the most important of the "treats" was at Vol's store, at "The Lakes," 17 miles north of Canon D'Abito Station, on the Santa Fe Railroad. It was here the untutored red man was shown the greatest marvel of the century's closing decade. An enterprising Chicago photographer had brought his kinetoscope outfit to Wolpi to catch the details of the snake dance. He had been there the year before and though he seemed to have had poor success in the Moqui villages, had caught the Navajos at their sports at Vol's. This year, on the plain behind the store, on a canvas screen, he exhibited his moving pictures before an assemblage of 600 agitated aborigines.

As the Empire State Express grow from a pin-point in the distance, till it filled the frame, seemingly rushing down upon the crows, the Indians gasped in unison and would have fled had not the interpreter reassured them. The march past of soldiery was something that most of them had seen, but the exhibition drill of the Kansas City Fire Department was an uncanny mystery. But the climax came when the pictures taken on the same spot the preceding year were reproduced. Most of the Indians had been present when the pictures had been taken. Many of them almost shrieked when they saw themselves in action, as they were in the chicken-pulling contest, and in the races of last August. Last year a popular clerk, since gone away, has carefully walked across the instrument's field. The Indians shouted as they saw him again on the canvas. Real enthusiasm was caused by the passage across the screen of the trader's well-known little dog. Among the friends recognized, a number had died during the winter in the smallpox epidemic. When the entertainment was over, the Indians crowded around the screen, feeling the canvas and rubbing their cheeks upon it, chattering noisily in their amazement.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Mothers of children affected with croup or a severe cold need not hesitate to administer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It contains no opiate nor narcotic in any form and may be given as confidently to the babe as to an adult. The great success that has attended its use in the treatment of colds and croup has won for it the approval and praise it has received throughout the United States and in many foreign lands. For sale by Arthur Bliss, Andover, and L. C. H. Shattuck, Ballardvale.

TO HELP THE CHILDREN.

The suffering among little ones always seems sad. The Children's Health Fund whose office is at 36 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass., takes children from homes of vice in all parts of the state, takes also children whose parents are unable to care for them, and who do not want to give them away for adoption. The Children's Health Fund takes them boards them in private families, thus saving the child from being sent to an institution, and enables the children to have foster parents' care, until permanent homes are secured in good families.

Clothing and shoes are much needed. Many of our readers have vegetables, eggs, poultry, etc., that would be a great help to this society if sent them. Any one desiring to take a child, either for the winter or permanently, should write G. W. Averell, Supt., 36 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass. The calls upon the Children's Health Fund are very heavy. Many cases are obliged to be refused every week for want of funds at command. Any one desiring to aid this most worthy object, may send donations to the office, 36 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass., which will be promptly acknowledged.

within a few days of the opening of the fair, and then daily attendance on the part of its officials, with the various committees having charge of the different features, becomes an absolute necessity, and thus until the gates are opened and a waiting throng are admitted to the grounds on the first day, the most active efforts are necessary to make the undertaking a success.

Prof. Coffey's Life Work

HOW HE CURES THE SICK AFTER ALL OTHER SYSTEMS FAIL.

WILL REMAIN AT FRANKLIN HOUSE, LAWRENCE, SOME TIME CONSULTATION FREE.

Many Declare That the Astounding Cures Made Every Day by Prof. Coffey Are Miracles Beyond the Power of Man to Describe.

STARTLING SENSATIONAL SCENES DAILY.

Have You Tested His Mystifying Powers?

THE GREAT HEALER

The wonderful cures performed by Professor Coffey in this city are creating a perfect furor of excitement and many are flocking to him daily for relief, and fully nine out of every ten who are treated by him are cured, the greater number only requiring a very few treatments, while many thrown away their cases and crutches, leaving his office fairly leaping for joy. His wonderful exhibitions in public, in People's temple, Boston, Association hall, Lowell, Cadet Army, Salem, and Odd Fellows hall, Lynn, are still on the lips of hundreds, and the joy of the scores who were cured there knows no bounds and has spread the good news all over New England until the name of Professor Coffey has become almost a household word, synonymous of the divine healing of ancient times.

Professor Coffey does not resort to the use of dangerous medicines to produce these marvelous results. He (by the simple laying on of the hands) transmits the vital force of the brain to the defective parts and the result in many cases is obtained in a moment of time. Nine cases out of ten any curable diseases can be controlled by a few treatments. By this apparently simple method, many who are being systematically drugged to death are saved from premature graves and given the use of their faculties and senses in a short time.

There is scarcely a disease that will not succumb to the magic hands of Professor Coffey. Along the whole category of human ills such as catarrh, pulmonary complaints, liver and kidney troubles, paralysis, all stomach disorders, female weaknesses of all descriptions, rheumatism in all its forms such as rheumatic gout, inflammatory rheumatism, swelling and inflammation of the joints, deafness and all diseases of the ear and eye, no matter what the trouble may be, there is hope as long as Professor Coffey is around.

Professor Coffey has revolutionized the science of healing by the discovery and perfection of a method which seems destined to replace all other means of banishing pain and disease.

You marvel that such things can be done right at your very door, and you have not heard of them, but to Prof. Coffey, the great exponent of the principle of Vital Magnetism, such cases are of daily occurrence at his office and pass with no notice except, perchance, the gratification in the heart of a man gifted to perform such wonderful acts.

If only the sick and suffering in this community could be made to realize the bountiful help that is within the reach of their hands as vouchsafed by Prof. Coffey and his power of healing, the crowd that would come to receive his aid would be legion.

We know that such remarkable cures are being made in this city seem almost incredible and these performances seem more like miracles than solid facts, yet they have been witnessed by thousands of people as they daily took place in the People's Temple, Boston, in the most public manner.

John Ellerman has been told by physicians that he had cancer of the stomach. He told the writer that he had received only five treatments and felt safe in saying that he was entirely cured.

Henry Seales, a confirmed cripple from rheumatism of 15 years' standing has discarded his crutches and gone to work as a free man.

Mrs. Ellen May Joyce had a large goitre on her neck; today after only three treatments there is nothing left of it but a little loose skin where the tumor formerly was.

Robert Haloran was cured of deafness of 10 years' standing and he can now hear the ringing voice of his little babe for the first time.

William Hardy, instead of being doomed to walk with the aid of crutches all his life, finds his legs as good as ever, and says he never ceases praising the name of the inspired healer who cured him.

Annie Parker lost her hacking cough and all the congestive pains in her chest after the healing hand of this great man had touched her. Thomas Kenna was cured of neuritis. Samuel Birch of liver trouble and kidney disorder. Celia Butler of an ovarian tumor. Allen Carter of partial paralysis of the leg. Evelyn Jardine of a weak back. Joseph Phillips of sciatic rheumatism, and Amelia Chappin of nervous prostration. All of these and scores more have been cured. So may you, if you will but apply for aid.

Prof. Coffey's private offices have been the Mecca for the sick. He does not claim to cure all diseases. He does not claim any divine gift of healing in the sense that is ordinarily understood but says that he cures on strictly scientific principles. However, this may be, he is none the less a wonder, and a work a blessing to mankind. None should fail to see this marvelous man.

Prof. Coffey has offices at the Franklin House, North Lawrence. Consultation free, where those who are able and willing to pay $2.00 per hour or $1.00 per hour from 9.30 a. m. to 7.30 p. m., daily, except Sunday.

WHEN LIGHTNING HIT HIM.

Albert Mantey has escaped the jaws of death, survived the crack of doom—his doom—and now lives to talk of the terrors of sudden annihilation or the lack of terror, which is more marvelous still. Mantey is a man of giant frame, a minor thirty years old, who weighs 200 pounds. He lies in the county hospital, burned from head to heel, sore, immovable, but getting better.

Mantey was struck by lightning last Tuesday afternoon, fifteen miles from Denver, while he and H. R. Van Derck and R. G. Fling, residents of Denver, were driving along in an express wagon toward Mount Vernon, on a camping-out trip. The fierce fire from heaven seared the flesh on both sides of his face, along his breast and down his back, and spent its force upon a metal truss which hung about his waist and probably saved his life. Van Derck, who lay in the bottom of the wagon, and Fling, who sat beside Mantey, escaped without injury, without sustaining even a shock. One of the horses attached to the vehicle was killed.

"I don't know how to begin to tell about it," said Mantey yesterday. "There was so much about it that I can't describe, so much glare, such a queer feeling of—I don't know how to tell you—a hot feeling in my head, not unpleasant, though, and a sort of notion that I was flying apart, all into little strips, light, like feathers, floating away into yellow space."

"But how did you feel when it happened," he was asked. "I was asked, 'Well, that's just it,' said Mantey. 'There seems to be a little bruised spot in my mind, and when I try to turn my memory back to that time it hurts.'"

"What hurts, your head?" "No, my mind; it doesn't seem to be my head. I can't locate it."

"Try to recollect, will you?" he was urged.

"Well, were jiggling along. Fling was talking about something I don't know just what. I wasn't paying much attention to him. I was thinking about something else—I was thinking—my how my mind hurts."

"What were you thinking?" "You'll laugh at me; it was such a darn fool thing," said Mantey; "but there had been some rain and I was looking at the horse that jogged along ahead on my side of the wagon. The heavy breaching you know, the leather strips, the back part of the harness that goes over the hips, was beginning to chafe the hair off his sides or so it looked to me."

"At every jog it rubbed him more, and his skin beginning to flinch under it, and I was just going to tell Fling that we ought to stop and loosen the harness in some way, or drop the breeching altogether when—the yellow came. That's the only way I can describe it—the yellow flash that came and stayed."

The funny part of it was that in amongst all the other feelings I could see the old horse jogging along jogging along—not all of him, you know, just his hips and the breeching that kept rubbing. I didn't have an ache or a pain. My mind went on, 'Not the first bit of trouble. I didn't even know that anything had happened, only I wondered at the yellow that was everywhere, and the hot feeling in my head, and I thought it was kind of strange that I should feel so light and all split up. I couldn't see anything but the old horse's hips and it looked after awhile as if I were away up in the air somewhere, I was floating and he just jogging along the same as ever—Gee, how my mind hurts!'"

"And how long did this last?" "I don't know how long, but it was till I felt something sting my face. Then the yellow and the old horse faded away and the doctor said, 'How are you, Mantey?' and I said 'What me?' I'm all right! And then I found myself all bundled up in cotton and my aches and pains set in.—New York Sun.

Willie Pepoon, an instructor in art studies in college at Farmington, O., and Miss Hattie Fisher a teacher in the Milford, N. H., schools visited at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Theron P. Fisher in this town last week. During their stay here they were shown many of the interesting points about town, with which they were much pleased. Both of the visitors are cousins of Mr. Fisher.

MORNING HEADACHE.

A general feeling of malaise in the morning, accompanied by more or less headache, is well known to most of us. The expression 'I've got a head on this morning,' well defines the symptoms which are almost invariably due to retention in the system of a small amount of the uric acid and allied products formed during the hours of sleep and not properly excreted. It is the forerunner of a gouty or rheumatic attack. Tartaric acid is just the remedy for this condition. Two tablets in a goblet of water, noticed will clear the head, start up the action of the kidneys, and freshen one up wonderfully. The dose should be taken before breakfast.

MENUS FOR A WEEK.

FOR MONDAY'S DINNER.

I do not ask that flowers should always spring beneath my feet;
I know too well the poison and the sting
Of things too sweet. —Unknown.

DINNER.—Carrot Soup, Mutton Cutlets, Breaded with Cheese, Lima Beans, Celery Salad, Spinach, Cheese, Peach Pie, Black Coffee.

CARROT SOUP.—After scraping six or eight large carrots cut off the red parts and place them in a steamer. Slice two onions, cut up one head of celery and quarter of a pound of raw ham and put them in with the carrots and add one tablespoonful of butter. Cover and simmer over the fire for 10 minutes, then add the one quart of stock and simmer till the vegetables are tender. Drain the vegetables, pound them in a mortar, put them in with the stock and add another pint. Strain this through a fine sieve, put into a steamer and bring to a slow boil, then skim off the fat and let it simmer for half an hour. When ready to serve, add a gill of cream, a little sugar and some salt and pepper.

LAMB OR MUTTON CUTLETS, BREADED, WITH CHEESE.—Trim your cutlets, remove superfluous fat and make them dainty in shape. Dip each cutlet in melted butter and then roll it in bread crumbs and finely grated cheese, the crumbs and the cheese being in equal parts.

THREE MEALS FOR TUESDAY.

There is no armor against fate, no remedy for incapacity.

BREAKFAST.—Fruit, Boiled Rice, Mince Meat on Toast, Baked Potatoes, Broiled Tomatoes, Rice Cakes, Coffee.

DINNER.—Cream of Rice, Roast of Veal, Carrots, Tomato Salad, Cheese, Peach Cobbler, Black Coffee.

SUPPER.—Clam Broth, Potato Salad, Water Cress Sandwiches, Cold Meat, Chocolate, Fruit.

CARROTS WITH FINE HERBS.—Wash and scrape three large carrots, cut them into thick slices, put them in a saucepan with some salt and water and boil until they are tender. Put a small lump of butter into a saucepan, place it over the fire and melt, then put in the finely chopped onion and toss it about until it is browned. Pour a pint of water over the onion and boil it for five minutes; drain the carrots and put them in with the onion, and add one or two dessertspoons of chopped parsley and boil for three or four minutes. Remove the carrots from the fire and squeeze in the juice of half a lemon and season to taste with salt and pepper. Turn the stew into a hot dish and garnish with croutons of dried bread.

WEDNESDAY'S DINNER AND TEA.

Prudence is of unquestioned value—until attempt becomes success.

DINNER.—Beef Soup, Boiled Corned Beef, Creamed Cabbage, Tomatoes, Macaroni, Cheese, Celery Salad, Apple Pie with Rice, Black Coffee, Italian Mints.

TEA.—Broiled Oysters, Cold blaw, Bacon, Sandwiches, Cold Meat, Celery, Rolls, Fruit.

APPLES WITH RICE.—Boil half cupful of rice with salt in milk till tender; sweeten to taste, drain it, if milk is not all absorbed; press into a basin, smooth it over the top. When it has cooled enough to hold the form, turn it out on a flat dish. This will be a scale and should be about 1 1/2 or 2 inches high. Pass and core as many apples as will stand on top of the scale, boil them slowly till tender in sugar and water; remove them before they lose shape. Boil the sugar and water down to a thick syrup, arrange the apples on top of the rice and pour the syrup over them. The thickened syrup, then fill the center of each apple with whipped cream, place a candied cherry on each one and a pointed piece of angelica between each apple.

WHAT TO EAT THURSDAY.

Modesty is the nurse of great actions.—Lytton.

DINNER.—Tomato Soup, Capon, Souffle Potatoes, Stewed Celery, Tomato Salad, Cheese, Cherry Pie, Black Coffee.

SUPPER.—Cold Tongue or Corned Beef, Escaloped Potatoes, Water Cress Salad, Rolls, Fruit, Tea Cakes, Tea.

CAPON.—Take a fair capon or a tender and fat young chicken and boil him by himself with a little salted water. Take mutton broth, half pint of white wine, a bundle of herbs and a whole mace; season it with verjus; put marrow, lemon, and cut like bacon and, with a larding pin, lard it and then put capon in a deep dish, thicken the broth with almonds, pour over the capon and serve.

SUGARED FLOWERS.—Boil some sugar to the cracking degree. If, when a fork is dipped into the pan, it throws off the sugar as fine as threads when taken out, it is ready, and the flowers may be put in. Rub the inside of some tins with table oil and put into each cup four tablespoonfuls of the flowers and sugar. Let these stand until cold, turn them out and serve piled up one on top of another.

FOR FRIDAY'S BREAKFAST.

Live without reproach or perish without fear.—Anon.

BREAKFAST.—Fruit, Porridge, Escaloped Oysters, Thinly Broiled Ham, Tomatoes, Rice Cakes, Coffee.

TO MAKE DEVONSHIRE WHITE POT.—Take a pint of cream, strain four eggs into it, put a little salt into it and a grate or two of nutmeg and season it with sugar somewhat sweet; take a penny loaf of bread sliced very thin and put it into a dish that will hold it, the cream and eggs being already put in; take a handful of raisins and a little sweet butter and bake it. OYSTERS.—If classical writers are to be credited to the green, yellow and white shelled oysters we must add the red, tawny and black fleeced ones. Pliny tells us of red oysters found in Spain, of others of a tawny hue found in Illyricum and of black ones at Circeti, the latter, he says, being black in both meat and shell. Horace and others awarded the palm of excellence to these. And to these might be added certain violet colored ones in France. There is a method of eating oysters, wherein no knife is required and not the least skill in opening is needed, the only instrument being a pair of tongs and the only requisite being a bright fire.

MENUS FOR SATURDAY AND SUNDAY

Joy is like a restless day, but peace divine
Like quiet night.

Lead me, O Lord, till perfect day shall shine
Through peace to light! —Anon.

BREAKFAST FOR SATURDAY.—Fruit, Boiled Rice, Poached Eggs, Thinly Broiled Ham, Potatoes, Tomato Salad, Toast, Marmalade, Coffee.

DINNER FOR SUNDAY.—Potato Soup, Roast of Lamb, Mint Sauce, Currant Jelly, Creamed Turnips, Cauliflower au Gratin, Mashed Potatoes, Fricassee Peaches, Cheese, Coffee, Italian Mints.

SUNDAY'S SUPPER.—Cold Fried Chicken, Cold Ham, Salad, Lettuce Sandwiches, Spiced Blackberries, Cold Custard, Sponge Cake.

POTATO SALAD.—A potato salad should not be made with cold boiled potatoes. The potatoes should be boiled in salt water expressly for the salad, allowed to cool, sliced into the salad bowl and seasoned in the French style with oil and vinegar and abundantly garnished with fresh chopped herbs. A little white wine will improve the flavor.

Good Cookery

PICKLED PORK AND PEAS PUDDING.

Soak the pork all night in cold water and wash and scrape it clean. Put it on early in the day, as it will take a long time to boil, and it must boil slowly. Skin it frequently. Boil in a separate pot greens or cabbage to eat with it; also parsnips and potatoes. Peas pudding is a frequent accompaniment to pickled pork, and is very general. To make a small pudding have ready a quart of dried split peas, which have been soaked all night in cold water. Tie them in a cloth (leaving room for them to swell) and boil them slowly till they are tender. Drain them and rub them through a colander or a sieve into a deep dish, season them with pepper and salt, and mix with them an ounce of butter and two beaten eggs. Beat all well together till thoroughly mixed. Dip a clean cloth in hot water, sprinkle it with flour, and put the pudding into it. Tie it up very tightly, leaving a small space between the mixture and the tying (as the pudding will still swell a little) and boil it an hour longer. Serve with the pork.

MARIE LOUISE FRITTERS.

Scale one cupful of milk and let it cool; when lukewarm add one-half of a yeast cake, which has been dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of warm water. Measure one quart of sifted flour, and from it take sufficient to make a drop batter. Beat well and set aside until light. Add the remainder of the flour, four tablespoonfuls of butter, melted, six eggs, well beaten, one-half of a cupful of sugar and one-half of a cupful of finely chopped almonds. Knead for a few moments, and set away to rise. When light push down with the fingers; do this twice; when again light turn out on a floured board; roll out quite thin, and cut in circles with a two-inch cutter. Spread one-half of the circles with any firm jelly and cover with the remaining circles, pressing them lightly together. Cover with a floured cloth and let stand until light. Drop a few at a time into a kettle of hot fat, drawing the kettle aside, that they may not cook too quickly. When brown, drain and roll in powdered sugar.

CLAM SOUP.

Select fine, large, plump clams and after chopping them finely add the liquor to the meat. To every dozen allow a quart of cold water, and putting meat liquor and water in a clean vessel, allow them to simmer gently (but not boil) about one and a half hours. Every particle of meat should be so well cooked that you seem to have only a thick broth, season to taste and pour into a tureen in which a few slices of well-browned toast have been placed. If desired, to every two dozen of clams allow a teacupful of new milk and one egg. Beat the egg very light, add slowly the milk, beat hard a minute or so, and when the soup is removed from the fire, stir the egg and milk into it.

BAKING POWDER BISCUIT.

Mix and sift two cups flour, two teacupfuls baking powder, and one teacupful salt. Work in one-half teacupful each of butter and lard with the tips of the fingers; add gradually three-quarters of a cupful of milk (milk and water, equal parts). Toss out on a floured board, and pat and roll lightly to one-half inch thickness; shape with a biscuit cutter, and dip in flour. Place on a buttered tin, and bake in a hot oven from 12 to 15 minutes.

BROILED SAUSAGES WITH FRIED APPLES.

Separate a string of sausages and prick each one with a steel fork several times. Place in a broiler over a dripping pan and bake in a hot oven until well browned. Drain on coarse brown paper. Place the fat in a frying pan and fry the apples that have been pared and cut into half-inch slices. Place the sausages on a hot platter and garnish with the fried apples.

SCALLOPED SQUASH.

Boil and mash the squash in the customary way and let it cool; beat the yolks of two eggs, and when the squash is nearly cold, whip these into it with three tablespoonfuls of milk, one of butter rolled in flour and melted into the milk; pepper and salt to taste; pour into a buttered deep dish, cover with fine bread-crumbs, and bake a light brown in a quick oven. To be served hot.

INDIAN PUDDING.

Make a mush of fine corn meal. Beat light three eggs and one cup of molasses, one tablespoonful softened butter, one teacupful soda. Ginger to flavor. Stir in mush enough to make a thick batter. Grease and have hot your gem pan, fill only half full with the mixture, put a raisin on top and bake a nice brown. Serve with hard sauce flavored with ground cinnamon.

THE WINTER'S SUPPLY.

We are now approaching the season of the year when the head of the family consults with his good wife as to the supply to be laid in for winter use. Under wise management this is the proper thing to do, but the wisdom or foolishness of it depends largely on whether the conditions will justify the action. There is no wisdom in buying, for instance, a winter's supply of apples, potatoes, etc., if the cellar is not such as to keep them intact from cold and wet, or if the fruit and vegetables are sure to decay before they can be utilized.

But if you have a good cellar you should lay in a winter's stock, and I desire to suggest some additions to the usual list, as I have found from observation it exists in most American households.

Potatoes, apples and onions are all right and should, of course, be included, but they are not all the vegetables desirable. A few eastern larders have I noted a supply of carrots. Ask the housewife why this is so and the answer will come, "Why, we never put in carrots." And why not, pray? Next to the onion the carrot is the friend of the cook. No stew or soup can be properly made without this vegetable, and nearly all ragouts and dishes using up the leftovers require carrots to ensure good results. Carrots are easily kept, are cheap in the fall, and a bushel at least should go into your cellar.

The yellow turnip is also a desirable vegetable to add to your stock. It, too, can be used in many dishes that economy will suggest and should not be slighted. Give it a place beside the carrot bin.

Peppers, the small red or Chili pepper preferred, should also be placed in stock. The use of paprika, black pepper, or even tobacco sauce, will not fill the place of the red pepper that can be bought in the fall and kept for winter use. A nice way to preserve them is to put them into a brine made of fine salt and water. Try it and you will not omit them hereafter.

Some day when at the market take home with you a string of garlic and hang it up in some dry place for future use. Too much garlic is an abomination, I admit, but a little (a clove or two of it) in a soup or stew gives a flavor that you will get in no other way. No high-class chef will do without it, and we all wish to aim at the results they obtain.

Of pickles, preserves, relishes and jellies we can only say a word. All are essential to a pleasant winter, and every good housewife will put in an abundant supply. No one of them need be expensive, unless the time consumed in preparing them is very valuable, and they will appear with their weight in gold later on.

In fact, now is the time to make it winter an enjoyable one so far as the table is concerned, if you are to regard economy as essential. As a stitch in time saves nine, so a few dollars invested wisely now will save many before the spring days return.

While on the subject of economy, let me ask why American families in the north and east do not regard more highly the use of buttermilk. In the south and southwest buttermilk is most highly esteemed, credited with medicinal properties, and a most frequent visitor on every table. Not only do the southerners drink buttermilk, but they serve it in jellies and pies, and it is delicious.

Try a quart of buttermilk in this way and be convinced. Place it in a granite kettle and boil, stirring to avoid curdling in lumps, and mix in enough rice flour, previously moistened, to make a soft mush. Beat in the yolk of an egg while hot and pour in molds. Serve very cold with cream.

Buttermilk pie is made like a custard pie, the only difference being the substitution of buttermilk for sweet milk and adding to each cupful a teacupful of cornstarch.

CREAM OR EGG HASH.

Take as much cold roast beef as required—mince it fine in a chopping bowl. Then take as many cold boiled potatoes as liked, also one-half of a medium sized onion, and chop them together. Put in the frying pan, having previously placed a lump of butter in it, and when it is hot put into the hash equal quantities of milk and water, let it boil a few minutes. Have ready one or two eggs well beaten into which has been broken one or two crackers; when the hash is boiling put the eggs and crackers into it, season to taste. When nearly done, which will be in a few minutes, poach one egg for each person. Put the hash on a platter and put the poached eggs on it, garnish with parsley and it is ready for the table. Pork and mutton can be served the same way.

The Representative Question.

In our issue of last week we presented very fully the preliminary understandings and actions in relation to the representative nomination.

We endeavored to make it clear that there is no understanding on the part of representation for each town in the district except the understanding that comes from the custom of the last twenty years, that Andover has its three years, then North Andover two.

The question, then, that presents itself for next Wednesday's caucus is the question of nominating Mr. Odlin or voting to allow North Andover to nominate the candidate. However the caucus may decide, let it be the decision of a gathering representing as nearly as possible every republican in town.

Editorial Cinders.

A two-mile ride to the Scotland district and beyond over the new state highway will convince any Andover citizen that state highway money is doing a great deal of good in one place at least. We doubt if there was a more trying piece of road for travel, that teamsters or bicyclists ever encountered than the road was from Carter's corner to the North Reading line before the state highway commission took it up. 'Twas then a pull either way one traveled, but now the hollows have been filled and the hills lowered, and the roadway over all built so hard and firm as to make it a delightful drive. The piece just completed by Supt. Lovejoy is well up to the standard in workmanship, and is a credit to his skill as a roadbuilder. Now give us about a half mile more and it will be a pleasure to ride to Boston over the road.

The opening of Phillips Academy is always one of the town's chief events. It marks renewed activity in all lines of retail business, and arouses all the life of town. The four hundred boys or more are welcome not alone because they add to the town's business, but because they have chosen Andover for a host and Andover's great school for a teacher. The boys may be as sure of the good will and interest of their host as they are of thorough instruction at the hands of their teacher, for the town always adopts every one as its own.

The opening this year marks the return of Dr. Bancroft to the active duties of the principalship. The splendid work of Prof. Graves last year puts the school into his hands in good shape and he takes up his duties almost as if they had never been relinquished. All citizens will hope that his health will permit him to go a long way toward the end of his second quarter century of successful and honored labor as principal of Phillips Academy.

The Reading fair has been well advertised but from all accounts its best advertisement is the excellent show which the management presented last year. The farmers make a very attractive exhibit and the amusement part of the show is well planned and well carried out.

Prof. Moore is now President Moore. The Seminary trustees have promoted one of the institution's most loyal workers, and one of the country's ripest scholars, in advancing him to the head of the faculty. The institution is to be congratulated upon the wise choice.

Andover has a particular interest in the Congregationalist gathering in Boston this week and it is sure that the pilgrimage to Andover will be one of the most interesting and popular ones, for many of the foreign delegates to take.

New Britain is deeply interested in Dr. William Long. It is not probable that his words, either spoken or written, will be forgotten here. Just now our people are reading "The Publican" in the Outlook, and talking about it. They find it to be like his other works, strong and purposeful, and possessed of that enviable quality that goes directly to the heart of the reader and inspires it. Those who read the noble prayer, expressed in the poem must feel that it should be the petition of Christendom for all mankind. We shall certainly miss an intellectual treat and a spiritual help if we neglect the reading of this poem.—Mrs. Bunce in her weekly letter to the New Britain Herald, Sept. 13.

Prof. Moore has been professor of Hebrew at the Seminary since 1883.

Opening at Phillips.

Phillips Academy reopened Thursday morning, entering into its 122nd year of life, with a school numbering nearly the same as usual at the beginning of the school year. The class of 1898 is a large one, however, with a membership not far from 150, which makes a promising outlook for the year's prosperity.

The faculty remains about the same this year as last with the exception that Alfred E. Stearns has taken Theodore H. Bacon's place as instructor in History, still remaining athletic director of the school.

Dr. Bancroft begins on the 27th year of his principalship at the Academy, while Mr. McCurdy commences his 27th year as mathematical instructor. Nearly all of the faculty have spent part or the entire summer out of town and many have just returned to resume their labors for the ensuing nine months.

Work is being pushed as rapidly as possible on the new Bancroft dormitory on Phillips street but it is not probable that it will be completed to be used during the present school year. Two of the old Commons buildings have been torn down, the first in both the Latin and English Commons, and the result is a much improved appearance to the surroundings.

Men have been at work preparing the campus for the football season. Loads of dirt have been carted to cover up on the east side of the field, which now runs almost due east and west. The turf seems much softer and smoother than last year, which fact will be greatly appreciated by the players. The bleachers are in their new position now ready for the first game of the season on Saturday.

Meetings of the different school societies will soon be held, or have been already, and the different boards are beginning to buckle down to work. Both the Phillipsian and Mirror boards are preparing for the issuance of their first number. The Phillipsian is to be issued next Wednesday for the first time this fall. Candidates for the various musical clubs and the dramatic club will soon receive a call to try for places and everything will fall into the customary rut.

Boynton Family Reunion.

A reunion of the Boynton family, which has not as yet been chronicled in the columns of the Townsman, was held at the Pines, Groveland, August 31. Seventy-five people were present, a number of them from Andover.

A business meeting and election of officers was held, the election resulting as follows: President, Marcellus Boynton, Shawmut; Vice-presidents, Hon. Eleazer Boynton, Dr. W. E. Boynton; Secretary, Mrs. Caroline H. Boynton, Groveland.

During the day addresses were given by Rev. Nehemiah Boynton of Detroit, Mich., E. Moody Boynton of Newbury and others.

At noon a collation was served to the gathered family of the name or blood of Boynton, and in the afternoon the exercises were continued. A complete and accurate genealogy of the Boynton family, descended from William and John Boynton, who emigrated from Yorkshire, England, in 1638, and settled in Rowley, Essex County, Massachusetts has been compiled by John Farnham Boynton and his wife Caroline (Harriman) Boynton and this was circulated among the attendants at the reunion. This handsome book contains historical and biographical sketches, English records, and the first five generations of the family in this country.

Evangeline.

The rehearsals for "Evangeline" are progressing rapidly, and a fine treat is anticipated for Tuesday evening next. Mrs. Rodenbaugh who is in charge of the production is delighted with the cast, and indeed every character seems to be particularly adapted to the parts assigned them. Some fine photographs of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hardy as Evangeline and Gabriel, have been taken by Mr. Hitchcock and will be on exhibition Saturday morning in one of the prominent store windows. Music will be furnished by the Parthenian Orchestra. The Acadian Minuet by eight young ladies and the Flower Drill by sixteen of Andover's prettiest girls, will be features. Solo work has been assigned to Miss Mabel Carter and Mr. T. F. Pratt. Exchange tickets are meeting with a large sale and doubtless most of the reserved seats will be taken by Saturday evening.

Cast is as follows:

Sewer Finally Completed.

At last the sewer is finished. After nine months of torn up streets Andover has once more regained her wonted air of peace and quietude. All that now remains to be done is to roll a few ridges from the road bed and the work for the year will be finished.

Two weeks ago last Thursday the gang of laborers was taken out of the trenches and the Saturday following practically closed up everything for 1899.

The sewer was begun in July 1898 and work continued through five months until November when part of the system was in operation. The contractors for the sewer construction in '98 were the C. H. Eggle Construction Company and the total sum appropriated for the year's work was $80,000. The filter beds near the Boston & Maine railroad tracks and Lawrence line were entirely finished only a short time ago so that now it can be rightfully said that the sewer is an actuality.

At the last town meeting in March of this year, $30,000 was appropriated to extend the system on the hill and in other sections of the town. The work of construction was awarded to the same firm of contractors but as the firm later dissolved partnership, the work was undertaken by one of its members, L. N. Farnham. Work was begun in May and continued until the first week in September, about four months.

During the entire nine months, the sewer commissioners for the first five months and the board of public works for the last four, have labored unceasingly to obtain the best possible results from the system and it can safely be stated that all the work is well done, the pipes carefully laid, joints tight, insuring a small leakage, and the streets well rolled to their former state of evenness.

In 1888, the work was conducted under the surveillance of a board of engineers, McHittcock & Woodfall, of Boston, but this year the construction was under the direction of John E. Smith, Superintendent of Public Works who has watched the work very carefully.

Nearly all the residents may well heave a sigh of relief to think that everything is once more in a state of tranquility and they are gainers by the necessary system of sewerage without which a thickly settled town can never be safe from dread diseases. What with pure water and air, good sewerage, and lighting, electric and train service, well built streets and many good sidewalks, added to her many natural beauties, Andover is indeed well blessed.

New Location For Tuttle & Morrison.

Work was begun on the excavations for Tuttle & Morrison's new building on Park street, Wednesday afternoon. On Monday, the building used for a carpenter shop by Brainard Cummings, was moved to the rear of the lot by Wilcox of Methuen, and will later be converted into a barn. A. F. Abbott's shop and the blacksmithery formerly occupied by T. P. Harriman, now belonging to Tuttle & Morrison, were moved to one side to allow room for the construction of the new building. This smithery will be moved to a position in the rear of new shop on its completion to be used as at present.

The new building is being erected by Hardy & Cole who were awarded the contract, and it will be completed before the end of the year. It will front on Park Street in a line with the other buildings on the street. The dimensions are 40x30 feet, and it will be three stories. Here they will locate their carriage smithery, on the first floor, while the wood and paint shops will occupy the two remaining floors.

The buildings now used by Tuttle & Morrison are the old carriage shops of the Pears on North Main street, Frye Village. These buildings have been sold to William M. Wood, whose property adjoins theirs. It is probable that they will be torn down or removed by the latter, thus doing away with an old land-mark.

Cricket.

The game last Saturday afternoon at Lowell between the Lowell Buntings and the local eleven ended abruptly owing to a difference of interpretation of the rule regarding leg before wicket decision. The trouble arose during Andover's inning. Patrick, the Bunting's bowler, was delivering round the wicket and appealed for l. b. w. on Captain Bruce. The umpire said out but Captain Bruce maintained that according to Marybone Cricket law the ball must be delivered in a straight line from wicket to wicket and this Patrick could not do bowling round the wicket. Both stuck to their opinions and the game ended.

Bunting batted first and after pulling in 68 runs for 6 wickets declared their inning closed. Andover opened well and put on runs at a lively rate 18 being scored in four runs, Haddon having 10 not out and Angus 8. Angus bowled well getting 4 for 24. A Ritchie kept wickets in good style not a bye being allowed.

Saunders in the field, the result should be in favor of the home eleven. The following will represent Andover: Bruce, Haddon, A. B. Saunders, F. Angus, J. Kydd, J. Kydd, W. FOOTBALL AT PHILLIPS.

Capt. Davis Calls out a Promising List of Candidates.

The football season has fairly opened at Phillips academy and Captain Davis is busily engaged in getting out the promising material for the team. Yesterday two eleven were lined up and the men practiced on breaking through.

For the positions of centre and guards, Howe of last year's scrub, Flynn of Shadyside, Cleveland of Chicago, Tate of Chicago, and Dutcher seem to be the most promising. Botsford and Wiggins are good material for an end position although the latter has been playing at right tackle. Among the most likely of the candidates for quarterback are Baldwin of last year's scrub, Sillick, Winslow, and Dunbar of Lawrenceville. Bliss and Levine will make a bid for a position back of the line. A promising man for fullback has appeared in the person of Stoddard of St. Paul's.

Many more candidates are expected out before long so that a contest for several of the positions will be warm. The rush line ought to be heavy this year from the looks of the men now on hand. Among the men not yet out are several the St. Paul, Garden City, N. J., school team, Brown, captain of last year's Trinity team, Trott of Medford high and others.

Obituary.

MRS. LUCIA G. (MERRILL) BOYNTON

Mrs. Lucia G. (Merrill) Boynton, wife of H. W. Boynton, an instructor at Phillips Academy, died at her home on Porter street, Tuesday morning, about 10 o'clock, aged 31 years.

The deceased was a woman of the most attractive and beautiful personality, one who gained hosts of friends wherever she happened to be. Her pupils loved her; the tradespeople and her associate teachers admired and appreciated her worth; her cordial and kindly disposition and pleasant ways toward all could not fail to make life-long friendships. She had a beautiful voice, and her singing was the delight of all her friends. It was with the greatest sorrow that those to whom she was known, learned of her demise.

Mrs. Lucia G. (Merrill) Boynton was born in Mound City, Kansas, thirty one years ago. Her parents were Rev. J. G. Merrill, now Dean of Flak University, Nashville, Tenn., and Miss Louisa Boutwell, sister of Selectman S. H. Boutwell. Her education was completed at Mary Institute, St. Louis, her father being pastor of the First Church, of that place, at the time. Later, Mrs. Boynton took a post-graduate course at Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass. She afterwards taught two years, just before her marriage, at Puncard, making her home at the time with her grandmother, Mrs. James H. Merrill, at 21 Salem street.

Six years ago, the deceased wedded H. W. Boynton, instructor in English at Phillips Academy. Their married life has been a most happy one and two children have blessed their union.

Besides her husband, and two boys, Merrill Holmes, aged about 5, and Oliver Griswold, aged about 2, she leaves her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. G. Merrill, a sister, Miss M. Perley Merrill, and two brothers, Oliver B., and William F. Merrill, who are in business in Boston.

The funeral was held from her late home, Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, Prof. William H. Ryder of the Theological seminary officiating. The funeral was private. A profusion of the most beautiful flowers showed in some slight way, the esteem in which she was held. All the instructors at Phillips Academy acted as bearers, carrying the remains from the house to its last resting place in the Chapel cemetery.

MRS. JAMES SOUTER

The death of an old resident of Andover, Mrs. James Souter, wife of James Souter, of 53 Mineral street, occurred last Friday morning, at the age of 84 years. The deceased was born at Brechin, Scotland, and has lived in Andover nearly 38 years. A member of the Free church and a woman of kindly disposition, she has left a host of friends to regret her demise. Her last illness was borne with a most Christian patience and resignation.

She leaves a husband, one daughter, Miss Mary Souter, and three sons, Walter, in the provision business, Boston, Joseph, employed by the B. & M. railroad at Boston and James, a plumber with G. W. Dodson & Co., Lawrence.

The funeral was held from her late home Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, Rev. F. A. Wilson, officiating. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Card of Thanks.

James Souter and family desire to express their heartfelt thanks for the many kindnesses shown by their neighbors and friends at the time of the illness and death of their wife and mother.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Justice To North Andover.

Mr. Editor:

It seems to be gross selfishness and impudence for Mr. Odlin to claim the representative renomination this year when everybody but himself has supposed it was to go rightfully to North Andover. Andover has had the representative for the last three years. Even if his highly improbable chance for the speakership were to be considered, it is difficult to see how we are to ask North Andover to stand aside for him. If the speakership is a possibility, would he be content with one year of it? Shall we take this nomination from North Andover because we have the power of numbers and can outvote her? Are not the honor of Andover republicans and the harmony of the party in this district worth more than the ambitions of any one man?

Mr. Odlin's nomination under existing circumstances will open wide the door to the election of any respectable North Andover democrat or independent and will make a breach in the party in this district which will not be healed for years. The nomination belongs to North Andover. Let our caucus be just and give it to her without the slightest hesitation.

JUSTICE.

Mr. Odlin as a Representative:

To the Editor of the Townsman:

I have no desire to encroach upon your columns to any length, but I cannot refrain from protesting most emphatically against the return of Mr. Odlin as Andover's representative in the Massachusetts legislature.

I don't know anything about North Andover's claim upon the position, but from your review of the case last week it seems to be a just one, but I do know that two years of Mr. Odlin has shown a woeful lack of judgment and ability in his work as representative.

During the past session I can recall but one act of his where our own town was directly interested, and in that he went out of his way to attack the town's chief industry. Phillips Academy, so far overstepping the bounds of truth as to say that the school was of "no use to Andover." If anything could go farther toward making his title more fittingly a "misrepresentative of Andover" I cannot see what it could be.

Let the nomination go to North Andover or Middlebury, or anywhere else, rather than to give it longer to a man who hasn't one qualification to make him a proper representative of the town of Andover.

REPUBLICAN.

Mr. Editor:

Will you allow me a small space in your paper of this week's issue? I wish to speak about the treatment that women receive at the hands of some men here in our town. I have never, heretofore, been in favor of Woman's Suffrage, but my experience of the last two months has caused me to change my mind and I have come to the conclusion that women who hold real estate, at least, should hold a vote if they wish to be treated with any degree of justice.

Let me give you a somewhat condensed history of my summer's experience. About the middle of July I had the promise, through one of my tenants, of some gravel from the sewer men. One of my neighbors had been served with a large quantity. I employed a man to take off the sod and loam, then to make new trouble for the men to deliver the gravel. I had the fence taken down, although it was good for five years to come. The boss on the sewer work said they should be ready to fill in the next week, but it is still unfilled. After a month I was told that several men had put on teams and were taking everything and if I get any at all I must put on a team, therefore I sent Walter French with his team and man; the sewer manager refused to let them have any for me, (I could not vote, see?) told my men that Mr. Smith had said they were not to give any more away; then I went to Mr. Smith and stated the case from the beginning. He said he had nothing to do with the disposal of the surplus gravel, but to put it in the sewer. I asked him to use his influence to secure me justice in the matter, but nothing was done for me. The gravel and stone continued to be given to men right along and I was promised gravel before these men were. I said nothing more until this week.

Last Monday morning two two-horse teams carried gravel and stone directly by my house to the grounds of a resident near the end of the sewer extension. Highland Road had none to spare yet it was carried off.

Now, Mr. Editor, I think that a very unjust piece of business. Two of the five men who received large quantities of gravel pay more taxes than I do, the other three combined do not equal mine, not one of the five has the large number of feet of sewer construction to pay for, possibly one has the large number of houses supplied with water that I have. If I could, only vote and help put somebody into office, of some kind, however small, it might be considered right for me (although a woman) to have the gravel promised me before these men were promised any.

The women of Andover pay one seventh of the town taxes, and since they have not the right to vote on the appropriation of this money, they should be entitled to some little consideration and just treatment.

MRS. R. A. CARTER.

Last Monday evening about 9 o'clock, Leonard Morgan, while standing on the railroad track near the Ballardvale station and watching a freight train was struck by an express train and instantly killed. The deceased who was 16 years old always bore a good reputation and was a general favorite among his companions. His sudden death came as a blow to his relatives and friends and was the saddest and most heartrending accident that ever occurred in the Vale.

Besides his mother he leaves three sisters and two brothers to mourn his loss. The funeral took place from the Congregational Church, Wednesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Edwin Smith. Interment in the Episcopal cemetery, Andover.

GLOUCESTER BOAT FINE.

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 21.—According to advices received here from Sheldrake, N. S., the fishing schooner Stranger of this port was seized at Gloucester, N. S., about 10 days ago on a charge of violating the treaty laws. A fine of $400 was imposed which was paid and the vessel released.

The alleged offense was that the captain of the Stranger put into Sand Point, N. S., and shipped two men without reporting it at the custom house. The Stranger is owned by David B. Smith & Co. of this city.

Corp. Kelleher was born in Beverly in 1871, and was educated in the public schools. He was a first class ball player and held in high esteem by all who knew him. He was an active member of the Knights of Columbus. He enlisted as a private in the 17th Infantry and after a brief service was appointed corporal. Feb. 3 he sailed with his regiment from New York on the transport Colombo and March 22 arrived at Manila.

His father, Michael Kelleher, who resides at 19 River street and two sisters, Miss Annie Kelleher and Mrs. Edward Heaphy, survive him.

HAVERHILL, Sept. 19.—The aldermen held a hearing this evening at their meeting on the new state highway in this city from the end of River street to the Lawrence road.

Representatives George H. Carleton and George A. Hall explained that all but five property owners along the route had given 10 feet of land and had relinquished claims for damages along the route of the highway.

The state highway commission desired a release signed by the mayor and aldermen, assuming responsibility of damages from the objecting property owners and after the hearing this was granted by the board.

It was shown that by the taking of the land the expense if suits were brought, would only be slight and that under the betterment acts the city would be benefited. With the release signed by the mayor and aldermen the state commission intends to begin work at once and will expend $10,000 in making the highway passable.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

The heavy rain Wednesday interfered seriously with street car traffic on the Andover line of the L. L. & H. street railway company, some of the cars being nearly an hour late.

One car was derailed twice in Maryland village, Andover, great quantities of sand having washed over the track from the hill. At the point where the trouble was encountered the track is below the street grade and torrents of water rushed down over the rails during the heaviest downpour of rain.

The street railway officials say that no trouble was experienced on the other lines of the road in this vicinity.

RAW AS BEEF FROM ECZEMA!

No Torture Equal to the Itching and Burning of This Fearful Disease.

Eczema—which is more than skin-deep, and can not be reached by local applications of ointments, salves, etc., applied to the surface. The disease itself, the real cause of the trouble, is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood.

Mr. Phil T. Jones, of Mixersville, Ind., writes: "I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and began to spread and grow worse. For the past five or six years I have suffered untold agony and had given up all hope of ever being free from the disease, as I have been treated by some of the best physicians and have taken many blood medicines, all in vain. With little faith left I began to take S. S. S., and it apparently made the Eczema worse, but I knew that this was the way the remedy got rid of the poison." Continuing S. S. S., the sore healed up entirely, the skin became clean and smooth, and I was cured perfectly."

Eczema is an obstinate disease and can not be cured by a remedy which is only a tonic. Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—is superior to other blood remedies because it cures diseases which they can not reach. It goes to the bottom—to the cause of the disease—and will cure the worst case of Eczema, no matter what other treatment has failed. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to be free from potash, mercury or any other mineral, and never fails to cure Eczema, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Tetters, Rheumatism, Open Sores, Ulcers, Boils, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place.

Books on these diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

Patrick Hogan the G. A. R. veteran who recently returned from the national gathering at Philadelphia, reports a most interesting time during his absence on the excursion. The trip to the battle fields was one of deep and peculiar interest to him and memories both pleasurable and painful were awakened. The picture of the respective positions of the union and rebel forces was as clear to him in many respects as at the time of battle, and the fields of various encounters had not changed sufficiently to the eye of the veteran in present a very unprofitable afternoon except when the woods had been cut away and in such cases he was for a moment puzzled to trace the course of battle. Mr. Hogan was pleased and surprised to meet friends in a certain house where years ago he had spent many pleasant hours with them during the war. The family in question were equally delighted at the meeting and they very entertainingly recalled "old times" together. Mr. Hogan brought away several relics of the war, including a bayonet, bullets, shot and other things. Mrs. Hogan, who accompanied her husband also enjoyed the trip very much. Constable Harris has received a letter from his mother which contains information of his brother Sergt. Frank Harris, who after returning from the Santiago campaign was ordered to Alaska, with Co. E, 7th U. S. Infantry, to which company he belonged. The sergeant writes substantially as follows:

"I am on the banks of the Yukon river in one of the best cities here, at a good log cabin, 6 land shacks and a few tents comprise the dwellings and the population numbers about 300. The mining claims are about two miles distant. There are two Indian encampments across the river from here and the constituents are about the filthiest people I ever saw. They live mostly on fish and what they can procure from the company stores. They make good pilots on the river and receive $10 per day. Wages are paid at the rate of $30 and $40 per day, and we expect to remain a year. It is nice weather here. The sun sets a little after 10 o'clock at night. This place is about 700 miles from St. Michaels, and in the winter the mail comes overland, but not very often at any time. It gets very cold in winter at this place, the mercury dropping to 60 degrees below zero. We have about four months summer and eight months winter. Not many are getting rich here as wages and board are very high. Wages are paid at the rate of $30 and $40 per day, and board is $3 upward per day. We get no fresh vegetables whatever, and only meat that is killed here, for which we pay 50 cents per pound. Our food consists almost entirely of canned goods, and the men are sick of it already. We have two citizens in the hospital who are ill with scurvy. There is a doctor with us and he gives free services. I am getting tired of the place already and have nothing to see as the town is merely a collection of shacks and there is no street."
